Basement Torture Killings were formed in the Winter of 2007 by past and present members of Thus Defiled, Reign Of Erebus, Fleshrot and Scarabaeus. Part band, part horror presentation, the members consist of unconvicted serial killers Bertrand, Tarquin, Professor Kennith and The Fourth Killer. The band's music can best be described as old school death/gore grind with influences from luminaries such as Carcass, Cannibal Corpse, Entombed, Deicide, Death etc... Added to this blend of classic death metal is a visual image which is part slasher flick, part The League Of Gentlemen.

Basement Torture Killings released their first recording, "The First Cumming", in the Summer of 2008. Shortly after they played their debut gig in London with cult Swedish grind act Afrund. This performance caught the eye of Terrorizer Magazine, and on the back of this they received not only a very positive live review, but also an interview in the Breaking Faces section of the magazine. The band continued to promote "The First Cumming" with several more live appearances, which led to them featuring in the 2009 Terrorizer Readers Poll as a runner up in the Best Unsigned Band category.

2010 saw Basement Torture Killings growing in stature in the live arena which led to invitations to support acts such as old school UK death metallers Desecration and a tour with Spanish death metal legends Avulsed.

2011 will see Basement Torture Killings unleash their first full length album "The Second Cumming (Gagged And Stuffed Edition)" on Arcane Productions. The album continues to showcase the band's uncompromising and vicious high speed attack, fused with a more mature and technical side. An album launch show is already confirmed with Florida death metal legends Malevolent Creation, plus a UK tour with Swedish peddlers of sickness General Surgery.
